

Broddanes is a bird watching paradise. Puffins, eider ducks, black guillemots, ringed plovers, skuas, fulmars and other feathered friends are common in the area while seals hang about on the coastline. The landscape is equally diverse with its small peninsulas, creeks, islets and skerries. Further informations can be found here